In order to avoid any delays, with the delivery of goods to the show, it will be necessary for each exhibitor to either establish credit with a Kuehne & Nagel office, or have an American Express Credit Card on file with Kuehne & Nagel. If neither of these avenues is available to you, please be in contact with your KN Show Coordinator, to make alternative arrangements.

DEADLINES:

Deadlines are established, to provide a guideline of time necessary to have shipments cleared through Customs x-ray, Customs inspection and general Custom Clearance. Kuehne & Nagel will not be responsible, if shipments are delayed beyond our estimated time frame, due to congestion at ports and / or congestion in Customs.

It may be advantageous, to have your goods delivered to the Contractor's Advanced Receiving Warehouse;" instead of a direct delivery to the show site dock, to avoid having to pay for multiple hours of Waiting Time by the trucker. In either case, the show contractor will make the final delivery to your booth. Please check your Show Manual, to compare rates between receiving at the advanced warehouse and receiving at show site dock. Depending on your decision, about the above 2 options, please ensure the below deadlines are met.

Deadline for arrival of sea .....May 5, 2010
Deadline for arrival of air freight at Atlanta airport.....May 10, 2010
Shipments can arrive earlier without incurring penalties. Earlier is better.
